CHILDREN’S WELL-BEING AND PERSPECTIVES ON ITS ENHANCEMENT

Second International Conference on Children’s Well-being

2021 VIRTUAL CONFERENCE

9-11 July 2021

Call for Abstracts

The aims of the conference are to: a) clarify the concept of “well-being” as it pertains to children, b) address the ways in which it is used in studies purporting to observe, measure and predict children’s well-being, c) discuss the role that various factors (e.g., social, political, cultural, economic, psychological, environmental, pedagogical) play in children’s lived experience, d) advance perspectives by means of which children’s well-being can be enhanced at the local, regional, national or global levels and e) discuss the impact of COVID-19 on children’s well-being.

In the light of these aims, the conference organizers invite interested scientists to submit by May 31, 2021 abstracts in English, of no more than 300 words or papers of no more than 15 double-spaced pages on the theme of the conference. Submissions should be sent to 2021virtualconference@gmail.com. Acceptance notices will be sent on June 17, 2021. Participation in the conference is via ZOOM, open to the public and free of charge.

This project has received funding from the Hellenic Foundation for Research and Innovation (HFRI) and the General Secretariat for Research and Technology (GSRT), under grant agreement No. 11100.
